

FORUM: UNESCO

QUESTION: Ensuring quality education for all.

SUBMITTED BY: KENYA

General assembly,

Encouraging UN member countries to promote access to school for every child.

Thanking the UNESCO for its involvement in the creation of schools, the development of educational infrastructures and humanitarian operations.

Declaring that the quality of Kenyan education is essential for its development. It allows to maintain social and economical progress, emancipation of minorities and female mostly, thus democracy and political stability.

It is therefore vital to act to preserve a proper education for all and to do everything in our power to improve it.

Nowadays, the access to formal education proves to be a challenge, indeed even if there have been significant improvements concerning the educational system, there are currently more than 1,2 million Kenyan children in school age unable to access to a proper education.

Aware that the stability of the Kenyan school is threatened by several factors notably by the denigration of minorities such as disabled people or nomads and by insecurities from political issues. The united nation pledges to help and solve these problems.

1. Invites each country member of UN to organize campaigns to increase awareness concerning discrimination, gender, social and physical differences.
2. Offers global cooperation allowing exchange of knowledge between teachers from different countries to increase their qualifications.
3. Demands the improvement of security measures in order to stop violence and terrorist attacks towards schools.
4. Proposes increased and improved funding at the country level.